

ADRIANO GIOTTI

Adriano Giotti is an Italian director born in Florence in 1984. Trained at the Holden School, in 2011 he was selected at the NCN LAB at Casa del Cinema and received the Special Mention for the screenplay "A Vuoto".

In 2012 he won the 48 Hour Film Festival in Rome with the short film "Abbiamo tutta la notte", representing Italy at the 48 Hour Film Festival in Los Angeles.

In 2014 he made "Piume (Feathers)", winner of several awards including the Amnesty International Award at Giffoni Film Festival. The short film was also included in the Young Italian Authors section at Venice Film Festival.

In 2015 he made "A Vuoto", which entered the final 5 at the Italian Golden Globes and was as well included in the Young Italian Authors section at Venice Film Festival.

In 2016 he made "Esseri di Stelle (Star People)", produced by Rai Cinema, in competition at Giffoni Film Festival and Young Italian Authors Section at Venice Film Festival and "Mostri (Monsters)", selected among the final 5 at David di Donatello Awards and in competition at Tampere Film Festival and HollyShorts Film Festival (Oscar-qualifying festivals).

In the same year he won the Best Italian Film Award at RIFF - Rome Independent Film Festival with his first feature film "Sex Cowboys". Sex Cowboys is distributed in Italy, Uk, Germany, Australia, South Korea and Taiwan.
